

Raise your glasses to summer

RICH STAPLETON talks to the Oxford Wine Company for tips on the best warm weather wines

Need a hand picking the right wine?
Stop by the Oxford Wine Company for some expert advice

Summer is officially here, and with it comes picnics, garden parties, dining al fresco and the need for a cool, refreshing tippie as the perfect companion to our outdoor endeavours.

We all love a fine bottle of wine to wind down or celebrate with, but can often find ourselves wishing for a little guidance when it comes to locating the right variety for the occasion. To ensure your success in securing the appropriate bottle, we took a trip to Oxford Wine Company's Tetbury branch for expert advice on the matter.

They recently took home the prize for best customer service (alongside best wholesaler) at the Wine and Spirits Awards, so are well-versed when it comes to passing on knowledge of all things grape and great. We chatted to Richard Walley, the branch manager, for his top tips on white, sparkling and rosé wines to
