Description:

Join us for our annual tasting extravaganza in the Ballroom at The Randolph Hotel.

We will be inviting some of our favourite producers to join us at the fair, each of whom will be pouring a selection of their wines for you to taste. The range of wines is not intended to be an exhaustive representation of the world's production, but rather an eclectic mix of highlights from the OWC list, featuring vinous classics as well as some more unusual bottles. An accompanying booklet will be available with information about each producer, as well as technical sheets next to each wine to satisfy the wine geeks in the room! Plus, of course, knowledgeable staff and winery representatives to talk you through what you're tasting.

Your ticket price gets you entry to the fair for the evening, and samples of whichever wines you would like to try. The numbers aren't yet final, but we will be pouring at least 70 wines.

All products on show will be offered at a discounted price should you wish to take the opportunity to fill up your wine rack. We will also be issuing a £10 voucher to each attendee, redeemable against a twelve bottle purchase. A perfect opportunity to pick up some treats to see you through the festive season!

This is always a fantastically good fun event, and the highlight of our tasting calendar - a pretty good way to spend a Friday night as far as we're concerned!

Please note that this event sells out quickly, so do book well in advance to avoid disappointment.
