Other Info: The Blandys are unique in being the only family of all the original founders of the Madeira wine trade to still own and manage their own original wine company - nearly 2 centuries of fine wine production. Since 1989 sales of Blandy's Madeiras have more than doubled and Blandy's now enjoys a dominant position as the leading shipper of premium island-bottled Madeira. Blandy's remarkable record of sustained sales growth, with an average annual increase of 13% over the last five years, has spearheaded a strong revival in Madeira which has justly recovered its status as one of the world's great wines. In 1991, the entire Blandy's range of wines were presented with new and modern labels, this not only helped encourage new consumers to try these excellent wines but it also spurred other Madeira producers to up-date their own labels, helping Madeira to improve its image around the world.
