

Villa Giada Suri Barbera d'Asti

£14.75

Vintage:	2018
Bottle Size:	75cl
Alcohol %:	14%
Country:	Italy
Description:	Full and fruity, fresh and generous, it exalts the typical characteristics of the Barbera. Its sweet and soft tannins, lead to a soft and persistent finish. Thanks to its typical structure, it can be appreciated both in the first year after the harvest and after a short ageing.
Cepages:	Barbera
Group:	Italy
Sub group:	Piedmont
Colour:	Red
Closure:	Cork
Producer:	Villa Giada
Website:	https://www.villagiada.wine/en/
Organic/Bio Status:
Food / cocktail match:	Duck, goose and game birds.
Food / cocktail recipe:
Press	"Rich and glycerol on entry, almost as if made with partly air-dried grapes; finishes long and suave with strong blueberry and lavender notes" - Ian D'Agata, DECANTER Magazine.
Awards	Silver Medal - The International Wine Challenge.
Other Info:	The name Villa Giada, acronym of the initials of the names Andrea Faccio's parents, was first used by his grandfather, Giuseppe Faccio, at the beginning of the 70's. The Azienda Agricola Villa Giada has over two centuries of commitment in vineyard management. The historic core of the winery, where now their best wines age in barrels, was built in 1790. In 1940 the new part of the cellar was built to produce Moscato d'Asti, whose production required considerable technological work. In the same period, the traditional and important aging red wines in Piedmont began to be made at Giada - Nebbiolo, with Barolo and Barbaresco as well as Barbera. The most suitable areas for the production of Barbera were identified, and the village of Agliano Terme, where Giada have their vineyards, was recognized as the best terroir. The best Crus come right from this area, which makes Barbera an important wine on the Italian wine scene.

These days the winery is owed by Andrea Faccio, who keeps a firm hand on the winery and vineyards. For some years now, in the attempt to respect nature to the full, Villa Giada have obtained the official certification of 'Vegan wine', demonstrating their desire to eliminate all products of animal origin, even in the cellar.